VICTORIA INDUSTRIES.

The Albion Iron Works—An Immense Enterprise—Work in Progress.

Output for the Year—General Talk With Mr. Bullen, the Manager.

THE TIMES representative called at the office of the Albion Iron Works Co., in accordance with appointment, and was met by the energetic manager, Mr. Bullen, who spared no pains to make his visit more one of pleasure than of business. Nearly the whole of the afternoon was consumed in the tour of the premises, yet the hours flew so pleasantly that it seemed scarcely possible to be convinced that it was nearly quitting time before the inspection came to an end. Variety added to the weight of other monotony breaking circumstances, and the afternoon will from its associations in connection with the Albion Iron Works, and its genial manager, become a red letter day in our calendar.

Entering one of the large workshops, we found the sons of Vulcan busy on new machinery for the steamer Robert Dunsmuir. The engine before us, some parts completed and others yet in their crude, rough state, promises to be quite a triumph of Victoria marine engine building, every part having been manufactured on the premises of the company. With an indicative horse-power of 200, her twin screws will attain a velocity of 100 revolutions a minute, calculated to give the vessel a propelling speed of from 14 to 16 knots an hour. Next comes a powerful stationary engine of 100 horse-power, with horizontal tubular boiler for Dunsmuir & Co.'s extensive sawmills at Comox; also a "sinking" engine and boiler for shaft-sinking at that firm's mines in the same locality, while several machines used in our canneries for turning out the tinware casings were under construction. Steel tires for railway cars, buggy wheels and other running-gear for the E. & N. Railway were lying around. Here was a large piece of shafting for the steamer Princess Louise slowly revolving and becoming shapely under the powerful chisels of the lathe, while castings for the Vancouver Coal Company, hydrants for the Vancouver City Water Works, especially the large pipes for crossing the narrows of Burrad Inlet, were a credit to the moulder's art. The clean skin of the metals shows the absence of the hand or experience of the novice. They are 12 inches in diameter, 12 feet long and 1500 pounds in weight, being 125 pounds to the foot. Their thickness will for a long time enable them to resist the hydraulic pressure, as also the inroads of the corrosive qualities of the sea water. Here in the next building were seen the bake oven for the cores of the pipes and other moulds. We could see at a glance the whole process of moulding, casting, etc., all going on at once beneath our gaze.

Proceeding to the new shop where the steel pipes for the water works will be carried on, we found preparations nearly complete for the reception of the Hydraulic Punching Machine expected to arrive from Liverpool in a few days. The hydraulic pressure will be furnished by an accumulator and pump of the latest improved construction. The latter has three plungers three inches in diameter and six inches long, capable of forcing a storage pressure into the accumulator of 1,500 pounds to the square inch. This powerful force will at once blow punch 150 holes in several steel plates. There will be also a machine for bevelling off the edges of the holes and rolling them out into their proper shape from the effects of the powerful punches and rolled into proper diameter. These plates are one-eighth of an inch thick and of steel, capable of a resistance of 300 pounds to the square inch, and were manufactured in Glasgow. The hydraulic riveting machine will be able to turn out 850 lbs. of pipe each day of 10 hours. Contracts are on hand for some 20 miles of piping for both the Victoria and Vancouver water works.

In the open yard we were shown what is called the dipping tank where the castings receive their glossy coat of Japan composition before being sent out.

The only power hammer in the works was inactive. It is direct action and falls with the force of a ton. The necessity of fast-increasing heavy forging forced the company to erect one more powerful, which will, when in working order, enable them to forge heavy marine cranks, shafting, &c. Mr. Bullen laughingly pointed out the truss rods for James Bay bridge, and well he might smile. So would any business man.

In the boiler shop we found several boilers in various stages of construction, for sawmills, for steamers, retorts for the canneries, steel buckets for dredgers, in fact every conceivable contrivance to suit the ingenious ideas of man. There were four flue boilers for the Hastings Sawmill Co., 25 ft. by 55 in., a new boiler for Mr. Alexander's steamer Mermaid, two new boilers for the steamer Pilot, several retorts for Todd's canneries, new boilers for same firm, also one for the steamer "Bell," New Westminster, buckets for the harbor dredger, etc. We saw with what ease and facility the powerful shears nipped off a piece of thick boiler plate. Lying around were wheels for a contractor in Vancouver, a safety valve for Kootenay, pilasters for buildings, &c.

In the store room were to be found every conceivable article turned out in the works. The large pattern shop and the brass shop afforded material for interesting enquiry. In the latter we observed the finishing touches as administered to the engine parts by the "automatic slotter." Here were taps, whistles and everything conceivable in the brass line. Bolt machines and contrivances were at work turning out bolts by the dozen of every length and thickness.

The marine engines and vessels under construction are: For Robert Dunsmuir & Co., 700 h. p. 3 feet stroke, triple expansion, 18 in. high pressure, 28 in. and 48 in. low pressure, 2 boilers, 8 ft. 6 in. by 19 feet, which will weigh 20 tons each will be made of steel. Steam tug "Princess" for Department of Public Work, 76 feet over all, 7 feet depth of hold, with compound condensing engines, 11 inch high pressure, 21 inch low; cylinders 14 inch stroke; steel boilers 7 feet, 6 inches marine type, capable of sustaining 125 pounds pressure, will attain a speed of 11 knots an hour, with a daily consumption of from 250 to 300 pounds of coal. Contract price $15,000. In the draughting office were shown the elaborate plans of a large vessel prepared by the company, with a view of obtaining a contract from the Dominion government. The plans were elaborate, but beyond the acknowledgement of their receipts at Ottawa nothing further was heard. The contract was, it is said, given to a firm in England. So much for the boasted N. P.

The company employ some 200 workmen, whose monthly pay sheet amounts to the respectable sum of $12,000. The output for the half year ending 30th June last, was $170,000. Most of the raw material, even to the coke, is obtained from England. Pig iron can be put down here at three cents a pound. There are none other than white labor employed, which argues well for the working feelings of the company. In a conversation with Mr. Bullen it appears that the workmen are all well satisfied with their treatment by the company, complaints regarding skilled labor being rare. The great difficulty in the way of the firm extending their works seems to be eastern competition of cheaper skilled labor. As it is, the Albion Iron Works Co. pay 50 per cent. higher rate of wages than is offered in the east. It is acknowledged that the mechanics could not work for less wages here in Victoria, solely owing to the cost of living in every article needed for their families, and till prices come down in this direction it would not be advisable to more deeply enter into competition with the eastern markets. The great remedy for this crying evil is to be found in the establishment of a market which would bring prices down to staple figures. If the old idea of an entire monopoly in trade were once broken, things would very soon right themselves. The law of political economy would step in and establish fair living prices in the necessaries of life and the field of labor, both skilled and unskilled. There would be a complete revolution in the state of affairs, so much so that Victorians would not know themselves.

The firm has all the work it can handle and it is found necessary to run the works day and night in order to meet their contracts. The departments are laid off with systematic regularity, calculated to facilitate the working of the concern, all under the able management of Mr. Bullen, whose attention seems omnipresent. If affairs should progress, even at the usual rate, the rising generation may witness acres of extensive workshops covered over with the enterprise and genius of the coming "Elder" of the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Bullen intimated that the establishment of a mechanics' institute, library and reading room, means for a healthy mind-improving, in-door recreation; also a school of design would be of incalculable value, not only to the hard working mechanic, but also to the employers, who would receive, in an indirect way, every benefit in the quality of work from such institutions. The happy, sober, well-contented mechanic will turn out better work in every way than those left to grumble away their spare time in the monotony of Victoria's attractions, especially during the long winter evenings.

In the confidence of youthful buoyancy and hope the manager is of the opinion that the works of the company will extend to meet the growing wants of the development of the country, and that ere long the people of Victoria will awaken to the wants of the mechanic class, and provide every means to enable him to do a fair day's work for a fair day's wage. The works, being as yet in their infancy, would, if trade warranted, be extended, and the present pay list increased double in a very short time.

MILLS' TARIFF BILL

Adopted in Congress by a Majority of 13—Great Rejoicing.

Taxes to be Reduced in the U. S.—Presage of a Cleveland Victory.

Washington, July 21—The tariff bill passed the house to-day. Yeas, 162; nays, 149. There was scarcely a vacant chair on the Democratic side of the House. The Republican side was equally crowded. Mrs. Cleveland and her mother took seats in the President's gallery. Speaker Carlisle remained in his chair throughout the entire speech of Mills on the bill, and gave it his closest attention.

Mills in the course of his speech said sugar showed next to the largest reduction in the bill, larger than in hemp, jute, iron and in everything except wool; but the bill had been called a sectional measure. To get $6,000,000 of protection on sugar the government had collected fifty-eight millions of tariff duty. The reduction was $1 in the hundred. It was less than one dollar in cotton goods. Was not that moderate? The duty still remained at $39.07 in wools, and on woolens the reduction was $20 on $100. Most of that had been caused by placing wool on the free list. The manufacturer would get free wool and 40 per cent. protection, or five per cent. more than he now got, and still the Republicans said the bill was a free trade measure. Articles amounting to $30,000,000 had been placed on the free list, and $630,000 of that was wool. Cotton had been the chief product of this country, yet the Republican party had put it on the free list, and were right. But when it was proposed to touch wool, the combination that made the protective tariff was struck, and they said, "you shall not touch it." The bill was intended to benefit the condition and increase the wages of the laboring people. [Applause.] The Government should not meddle with the people. They could take care of themselves; they were the most intelligent and best people in the world and could give employment to all of the laborers if Congress would let them alone. Why should we not have free raw material and have opportunity to contest on equal terms with foreign manufacturers. We would have a fair field and an open fight. [Applause.] The Democratic party intended to appeal to the virtue and intelligence of the country.

Bliss, Merriman, Griffin, New York, and Howden, Pennsylvania, Democrats, voted against the bill. Fitch of New York, Nelson of Minnesota, Brewer of North Carolina, Republicans, voted for the bill. Henderson of Iowa, Hopkins of Virginia, and Smith of Wisconsin, Independents, voted for the bill. When the Speaker announced the passage of the bill the Democrats broke into cheers, and waved their bandanas wildly in the air. Boutelle, Republican, ironically moved to take a recess till 8 o'clock, as this was the twenty-seventh anniversary of the battle of Bull's Run. The Republicans in turn greeted the sally with laughter and applause. A motion to adjourn until Monday was defeated, yeas 79, nays 296, and the house took a recess until 8 p. m.

EIGHT HOURS FOR WORKMEN.

Washington, July 19—Senator Stewart's amendment to enforce the provisions of the eight hour bill relating to the employment of workmen on public works will come up within a few days.

OUT ON BAIL.

Chicago, July 20. — Chleboun and Chapek furnished the required bonds of $5,000 each last evening and have been released. Kronek, the arch-conspirator, is still in confinement and will doubtless remain so.

THE NUN OF KENMARE.

New York, July 18.—A startling story was placed in circulation to-night that Sister Mary Frances Clare, well known as the Nun of Kenmare, had renounced the Catholic faith. Her case is said, in some respects, to be analogous to Dr. McGlynn, and that the lady had enlisted in the ranks of "Father" O'Connor's converted Catholics.

The two principal authorities making the announcement are "Father" James O'Connor and Michael Kerwin, formerly editor of Archbishop Corrigan's newspaper.

Father O'Connor said that for some time he had been in communication with the Nun of Kenmare, that to him she had renounced the Catholic faith and that he himself would be her escort to New York.

TEACHERS' EXCURSION.

San Francisco, July 21—Notwithstanding the cloudy weather, carload after carload of teachers was deposited at the ferry early this morning all ready to board the steamers Belgic, Oakland and Encinal for a free excursion around the bay of San Francisco. Shortly after 9 o'clock the Belgic, carrying Governor Waterman, Mayor Pond a number of other officials steamed out and the other vessels were not long in following. Each of the boats had a band and an enjoyable day will be spent. It is estimated that nearly 5,000 teachers took advantage of the free ride.

SEAMEN'S WAGES REDUCED.

San Francisco, July 21—The Pacific Coast Ship Owner's Association has just made a second reduction of $5 in seamen's wages. They now stand $40 per month for coasting and from $30 to $25 to outside ports. The Coast Seamen's Union will hold a meeting Monday night to decide whether to accept the reduction or strike.

MINER KILLED.

Sierra City, July 21—Charles Rich, a miner in the Sierra Buttes mine, was killed by a cave-in of the mine yesterday. He and two other miners were working together when the cave occurred killing Rich instantly by a piece of falling rock striking on his head. The other two men are not seriously hurt.

HAYTIAN INSURRECTION.

New York, July 21—Additional details have been received concerning the Haytian rebellion. The sympathizers of the banished Generals Liegemate and Murgul started a fire on July 4th, which burned over 1000 houses in Port Au Prince. The fire was first discovered in the Senate building while the Senate was in session. The building was destroyed. Fortunately the wind shifted and began to blow off shore, thus saving much of the city. On the 8th another fire broke out and burned another section of the city. Two men were shot in the act of setting fire. Soldiers patrol the streets regularly and are instructed to shoot anybody caught setting fire to buildings. A French gunboat which is lying off the city sent several platoons of soldiers to protect the French residents. Things are quiet now and affairs are supposed to be in a normal condition.

STRANGLED HER CHILD.

San Jose, Cal., July 21—Hilda Swansen, a young Swedish girl employed as a domestic, was arrested this morning and charged with murder. An infant was found dead in a field yesterday. The girl gave birth to the child yesterday morning and strangled it. She says the child's father lives in Sweden, from whence she came to hide her shame.

ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES.

San Francisco, July 21—Arrived—bark Tidal Wave, Port Madison. Sailed—Steamer Parthia, Hongkong, via Vancouver.

TO HANG ON SEPTEMBER 14TH.

San Francisco, July 21.—Shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon Superior Judge Murphy sentenced Alex. Goldenson, the murderer of the little school girl, Mamie Kelly, to be hanged September 14th.

MINE EXPLOSION.

Evansville, Ind., July 21.—An explosion yesterday afternoon at the Scion Coal Mine, near here, killed three miners. The engine house and other buildings were completely demolished.

CLOUDBURST.

Los Angeles, July 21—A thousand feet of track was washed away at the Tehachapi yesterday by a cloudburst.

Passengers on the West-bound train saw a great wave coming down Tehachapi Canyon. The train started out of the dangerous vicinity, and the track behind was rapidly washed out.

THE GREAT STRIKE.

Chicago, July 21—Dispatches from various points on the Burlington road, where Chairman Hoge and Murphy have been polling men on the question of declaring the strike off, say the majority of them are dissatisfied with the proposition made by the company and are unwilling to have the strike declared off on any such terms.

BOULANGER'S WOUND HEALING.

Paris, July 21.—Boulanger's wound has healed and he is convalescing rapidly. The doctors will allow him to go out as soon as the weather permits.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

Concert Given in the Mechanics' Pavilion, San Francisco.

The San Francisco Examiner of Tuesday gives the following account of the concert given for the entertainment of the visiting teachers on Monday night:

For quite a while it looked as if the Pavilion would not seat the throng that pressed into it to listen to the mass concert given for the entertainment of the visiting teachers, but the crush stopped after a while and left a comfortable audience of probably 5,000, each individual of which was near enough to the singers to hear well. At the rear of the hall 600 ladies and gentlemen, who constituted the chorus, were arranged tier above tier, with the musicians in front of them. Above the big sounding board was the legend:

"CALIFORNIA N. E. A. WELCOMES."

The ladies in the chorus, most of them young and all of them handsome, were very attractive in their light dresses. They sang with a heartiness that insured a successful performance. The gay badges of the teachers scattered through the hall lighted up the rather quietly dressed audience considerably. It was a little past the advertised time when the big orchestra rapped on their fiddles and flutes, by way of greeting to their leader, Mr. Kinross. Then the violincellos began so softly that the expectant silence was hardly broken. Soon, however, the violins and clarionets joined them, and in a minute the whole seventy-five instruments were crashing in Rossini's glorious "William Tell." When toward the end of the piece the brass instruments called and answered from the opposite sides of the platform the effect in the hall was grand. A sort of tidal wave rolled over the incline of faces, and the chorus had risen, saluted the audience and reseated themselves. All the strong voices rang through the building and came nearer filling it with melody than has ever before been done. Mendelssohn's "Thanks Be to God" was the chorus that opened the concert. Ben Clark sang "Queen of the Earth," and was loudly applauded, though his great success was in his second song, "Alice, Where Art Thou?" when he received the only encore of the evening. The gem of the concert, however, was the chorus "Farewell to the Forest."

THE CHORUS.

There was no accompaniment to this, and the great chorus needed none. The whole 600 voices kept perfect time and amply repaid the efforts of the patient trainer. Among all the voices there were one that caused many a searching look—a beautiful soprano, clear as a bell. It belonged to a young lady in pink, and was suprisingly fine. Mrs. Fleissner-Lewis, looking very handsome in yellow satin and lace, sang "Elsa's Dream," from Lohengrin, and Dessauer's "To Seviglia." Her singing was appreciated, as testified to by a big basket of roses which she received. The catchy minuet played by the string orchestra was one of the good things of the evening, and more than one walked away whistling the air. Too much cannot be said about the excellent drilling that the chorus received. Some found fault with the heaviness of the bass and the lightness of the alto, but the general verdict was that the parts were well balanced and the general execution as near perfect as was possible with such a large number of voices in such a place as the Mechanic's Pavillion.

AN ORGAN'S TROUBLE.

The Colonist publishes a dispatch from Ottawa contradicting a report that GENERAL MIDDLETON had been hastily summoned to Ottawa on account of the Indian troubles on the Skeena, and editorially says "that there is not a word of truth in the story which appeared in THE TIMES as to GENERAL MIDDLETON'S reported statements," &c. The dispatches appearing in THE TIMES are received in the usual way from the Press Association, and, like the Colonist's "exclusives," are given simply for what they are worth. Our contemporary's dispatch, however, does not prove anything. That the reports mentioned in our dispatches were current in the east is mainifest from our contemporary's telegram, which is sent to contradict, not what THE TIMES published, but the sensational dispatches originating from the highly colored report of an irresponsible press agent in this city. THE TIMES has simply pointed ont that the press and the military authorities of the east were becoming unduly excited about the Skeena emeute, and as there is only one way that the information upon which they base their conclusions could be received, it is only right that that medium should be saddled with the responsibility. Whenever a sensation is considered too absurd for the Colonist's columns, or a misrepresentation too great, which is not very often it is true—the brilliant and imaginative genius sends them by wire to the press of the United States and Canada. As to our "policy" in connection with the unfortunate Indian troubles, it can be stated in two words—The Truth. We publish the news as we receive it, and if in hewing to the line some of the chips fall into the ministerial wigwam that is so much the worse for the Government. The incapacity of the man who would send a gaol-birds into an Indian country, clothed with power and authority to deprive an Indian murderer of his liberty, cannot be lightly treated and will not be overlooked when the day of reckoning comes. The hand that does the shooting is not always alone responsible.

THE ACTING ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

The Colonist, in replying to the interrogation of the News-Advertiser, "Who is the Attorney-General of British Columbia at the present time?" accuses the latter of making a scurrilous attack on Mr. DAVIE. Our contemporary's ideas of scurrility are very general. Everything for instance which savors of criticism or censure of the government or itself comes under that heading. Our Vancouver contemporary, discussing Mr. DAVIE'S position as counsel for the squatters in the arbitration case, assumed that as no public intimation had been made to the contrary he was still Acting Attorney-General. It said: "This is not the first time that the people have been scandalized by the Acting Attorney-General trying to munch the oats in the public manger while snatching from time to time a mouthful of clean, bright hay from the private rack over his head. On a former occasion while the honorable gentleman proposed to hand over his responsible duty of prosecuting a man charged with murder, while he appeared himself as counsel for the defense, the Acting Attorney-General, in a voice choked with emotion, asked if we desired that the poor wretch should swing because our fastidious ideas of professional etiquette would force the learned gentlemen to throw up a brief accepted before he had taken office? In the present instance there is no such explanation possible, because the arbitration was not arranged until after the learned gentleman had been appointed, and the people will desire to know upon what grounds such a course as is being followed in this case can be justified."

So far as we are aware Mr. DAVIE'S resignation as Acting Attorney-General, has never been gazetted. The only public intimation of it was made by the TIMES some weeks ago, the government organ treating the matter as one of such indifferent interest to the public as to be unworthy of notice. The complacency with which these people play battle-door and shuttlecock with the public offices, and the coolness with which the organ attempts to answer decidedly proper questions respecting the matter, suggests, like many other things, the idea that a few run public officers in this province to serve the interests of their own sweet selves.

THE OLD MOSS BACK.

We have probably given the Standard more prominence during the past few days than it deserved. We have brought it back from the shades of oblivion in which it has so long been buried and caused its name to be mentioned where it had not been heard for years before; indeed we are credibly informed that the liberal advertising of THE TIMES has brought it to the attention of people who have been living in the city for years and were wholly unaware of its existence. The Standard as a few know who were accustomed to get an original copy round their washing, for the principal portion of the issue was sold to Chinamen, tenants of the proprietor, had dwindled down from a good paper to a miserable old rag that was an absolute disgrace to the city. It went from bad to worse, till it was hard to see any reason for its publication. It was not doing any good to itself or anyone else, and appeared to just come out daily through force of habit. It had got into the way of coming out every day, and it had to per force go through the mechanical performance. Business men refused to patronize it; the public refused to take it; it was despised and rejected of men, and no one had a good word for it. It refused to pay its printers living wages and turned them upon the street. It was "ratted." It became the advocate of Chinese, an enemy to all moral reform, a barrier to progress and advancement, a living, crawling, hideous "mossback" in journalism. Yet this is the paper bought by the Government to uphold their dying cause. Not content with refusing to recognize the services of Mr. Higgins in the past, they express a want of confidence in the Colonist, they depreciate his paper in the eyes of the public by buying the old "mossback" Standard to voice their praises to the public.

The New York papers have been making great fun over the kiss which Mayor Hewitt imprinted on the blushing countenance of the new Republican Duchess on the occasion of the civil marriage of Mrs. Hamersley to the Duke of Marlborough. Most especially is the Mayor twitted because he has not so saluted every bride who has sought his official services, and on this ground it is argued that the kiss was not given as a part of his official duty, but in his capacity as a private citizen. However, he seems to have made immediate and ample atonement, for he at once sat down like a good husband and wrote a letter to his wife, describing the wedding ceremony, the bridal party, the bride's dress and the kiss. But now the osculatory Mayor of New York, which the citizens of that metropolis are bragging about as the second biggest city in world, has kissed a couple of young girls, and on the lips, too. Honors must be nearly easy between Abram S. Hewitt and William T. Sherman.

There are at the present time a rather unusual number of vacancies in both the Senate and Commons. The Ottawa Citizen enumerates them as below: There are at present seven seats vacant in the Senate: (1) caused by the appointment of Mr. Nelson to the Governorship of British Columbia; (2) by the death of Mr. Plumb; (3) by the death of Mr. Fortin; (4) by the death of Mr. Rowland, who, owing to the state of his health, was unable to take his seat; (5) by the death of Mr. Ferrier; (6) by the appointment of Dr. Schultz to the Governorship of Manitoba, and (7) one of the two Senatorships created by the act of 1887 not having been filled. In the House of Commons the following seats are vacant: (1) Cardwell, in consequence of the death of Hon. Thomas White; (2) Cumberland, owing to the resignation of Sir Charles Tupper; (3) Nicolet, owing to the death of Mr. Gaudet; (4) Colchester, owing to the resignation of Hon. A. W. McLelan, appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia; (5) Provencher, owing to the resignation of Mr. Royal, appointed Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest Territories.

The commingling of the sexes in educational institutions has often been a question of debate and it has been brought up recently in Ottawa where for a long time the rules at the Normal school to prevent commingling were of the strictest kind, but were relaxed so far as to permit the young men to call on the young ladies and keep their company in the evenings. This conclusion was thought wise in view of the fact that the privilege was already enjoyed by some disobedient students. Just here the significant results engaged the attention of the faculty. Last year no student was awarded the Governor-General's medal at the annual examinations. There was a good deal of typhoid prevalent then among the students, and the failure of any one to qualify as a medalist did not therefore attract so much attention. This year, however, at the examination recently held, not a single student qualified for the medal; and, moreover, there were no honor students, an extraordinary result, which members of the faculty attribute to association of the sexes in the evenings, which under other circumstances more favorable to study were devoted to the acquirement of knowledge.

Father Drummond's Lecture.

In an interview which our reporter had with Father Drummond he gathered the following: The first time Father Drummond delivered this lecture in Winnipeg, Canon O'Meara, of the Church of England, of his own accord, and unsolicited, rose and moved the vote of thanks in an elegant impromptu address. At Medicine Hat the chair was filled by the Presbyterian clergyman, whose opening remarks were so thoroughly in tune with the lecturer's own treatment of the subject that he was fain to thank the Chairman for having stopped speaking, because, had he gone on, he would have left the lecturer nothing to say. On this occasion the vote of thanks was moved by the Methodist minister and seconded by the Anglican parson. In Minneapolis, where Father Drummond lectured last April, the audience of 1,200 people was largely composed of Free-thinkers and Infidels, who listened most attentively to what the Pioneer Press called "a sparkly able presentment" of Christian belief. There is, therefore, a rich treat in store for our intelligent citizens. We claim to be a Christian people; let us give proof of it by crowding Philharmonic Hall on Monday night.

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a cure for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength to the body, and produces a more permanent result than any medicine I ever used. —E. Haines, North Lindale, Ohio.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and know, if it is taken faithfully it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. —W. F. Fowler, M.D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried various remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured. —M. C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, without relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured. —Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach. —Millie Jane Peirce, S. Bradford, Mass. ff

THE DRINKING HABIT.

Philosophically Considered by One Who Knows How Drinks are Called for.

A Learned Disquisition Upon a Very Common Subject—Whiskey-Bibers Slang.

[From our own Correspondent.]

This is called the age of slang. Undoubtedly it is. Wherever intellectual liberty verges almost on license verbal emeutes must occur. To what lengths continued intellectual activity will carry us can only be conjectured. It may lead to perfection, but the chances are against it. With all our egotism we must still confess we are fools. Increased intelligence sharpens the mental vision, so that however superior we may regard ourselves to the past generation, the mote in the eyes of our contemporaries is plainly visible. The trouble seems to be in the fact that ideas are generated faster than they can be utilized, or to express it in another way, constitutional disability, environment, and opportunity preclude the fulfillment of the idea. No sooner is one ideal attained, if such be possible, than another is created and real life becomes a continual race after higher forms. From one idea a hundred ramify, and one life is not sufficient to grasp, and utilize them all. So as regards fulfillment we are always behind and always will be while the intellect continues to expand. When intellectual development ceases to be then we come to imagine ourselves perfect, but until we can practice as well as we can preach there is always room for improvement. This unceasing intellectual turmoil is a curious thing, and while unquestionably it conduces to happiness, too much of the "tree of knowledge" encourages scepticism and morbidness. Are thoughtful persons the happiest? Thought begets diversity, diversity begets controversy, controversy begets strife, and in the appeal to force the bravest and the strongest are the winners. The sword is the instrument of vanity, and the pen is dragged at the chariot wheels of war. Hence, why should we think and subject ourselves to ceaseless unrest. Since, however, it is a law that we must think, let us thank heaven for the quality of volatility. "Plunged in the gulf of deep despair," how many have been rescued by the assistance of an opportune witticism. The sense of humor was implanted in us to offset melancholy, and let us make the most of it. Of the phases of humor largely in vogue, figurative expressions hold a prominent place. To the choleric man the request to "keep his shirt on" is eminently suggestive. I could never see much in "wipe off your chin" and "pull down your vest," except a strain for effect, but if the softer sex must use slang these two equivalents, "keep your shirt on" are preferable. "Keep your nose clean" for a parting injunction to a young fellow about to go out for a night's run, wants elegance, but if the person so addressed has the least perception he will discover about the expression a significance perfectly overwhelming. A man steps up to the bar. He has been dissipating the night before, and there is unrest in his stomach and haggardness in his face. His better judgment says let nature, instead of whisky, brace him up. But no. Nature's operations are too slow. So in response to the bartender's questions, "what will he have," he gives vent to an ominous request for "bug juice." This comparison of whisky to bug juice is not done for effect. It is the natural sequence of his feelings. Whisky is too tame a cognomen, and disgust prompts him to mention it opprobriously. "Give me some poison," or "I'll take tarantula juice," originate from feelings similar to the gentleman who asks for "bug juice." Whisky, however, is not much called for in B. C. under the alias of "tarantula juice." This is a figure of speech which originated in California, where tarantulas grow. Probably the keenest irony of all these similitudes as applying to whisky is found in the euphonistic phrase, "sheep-herder's delight." Sheep-herders, like sailors long isolated from drink, when they turn themselves loose make things interesting. For their especial delectation saloon keepers and merchants as well kept a choice lot of proson guiltless of either wheat, corn or rye. It was something terrific. It would "kill a thousand yards" and at out-of-the-way stores where sheep herders traded it was that or none, "Hobson's choice," as the boys used to say. Some observer of the effect of this stuff on sheep herder's aptly and ironically christened it "sheep herder's delight," a name which still hangs to it and which is made to do service for brands of superior quality. "Gimme some rot gut" is a common request in B. C., and for downright appropriateness there is nothing equal to it. "A little sugar in mine" is a soft, harmless term and is modestly affected by Good Templars. "I'll take some cider" accompanied by an upward hitch of the right shoulder, which is the pantomimic equivalent of a "stone fence," is another Good Templar beverage. Mr. Weller's reply that he would take some of the "inwariable" has its imitators in men who ask for the "same old stuff." This is a favorite expression in Kamloops and means nothing more nor less then whisky straight. The list of synonymous terms for behavior and drinks might be strung out indefinitely. Space, however, forbids further mention, so I will conclude by an allusion to character. There is a man who rushes up to the bar and bawls out, "gimme some whisky," and who, while the glasses are being shoved at him, slams down his coin with a violence that makes the paint fly. This man has no poetry in him. His bump of destructiveness, also, is large, for not satisfied with defacing the bar with his silver piece, he must needs fling his number tens about wildly, erasing more varnish, and, perhaps, smashing a chair. In British Columbia neither political party possess a distinguished idiosyncrasy in their method of practice at the bar. I might mention though that after taking a drink those who wear moustaches throw their lower lip out over it and give one long, lingering suck. This habit, probably, was contracted during the two bit period when men wanted their money's worth. It is not a feature of either political party.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of tubercle germs into the system and when these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief. *

TO THE INCREDULOUS.

There was Never the Man Who was Fooled or Humbugged—He Humbugs Himself.

The human race affords in itself a most singular study. There are among the many class of thinkers, those who repose too much confidence in others, too little confidence in themselves, or no confidence in anything. The man who knows it all himself, the man who thinks somebody else knows it all and the man who thinks he knows who knows it all. The egotist, the simpleton and the skeptic. Recognizing the fact that people require more substantial evidence than mere words and promises, Drs. Darrin resort to the most legitimate method of advertising themselves by advertising their cures. That those among the community may be afforded an opportunity of investigating before calling in person upon the doctors, the following testimonials are published bearing evidence of the doctors' ability and skill as well as success.

DEAFNESS CURED IN TEN MINUTES.

Mr. Editor—Dear Sir: I reside in North Yakima, W. T. I consulted Drs. Darrin for deafness. My left ear was totally deaf. With one operation with Drs. Darrin's electro-magnetic cure, of ten minutes, I was made to hear as well as ever in my life. Can be referred to as to the truth of my statement.

C. V. FOWLER.

AN OPEN LETTER.

SEATTLE, W. T.

DRS. DARRIN—Gentlemen: I now take the pleasure of writing you that after a full course of your electro-magnetic treatment I am entirely cured of a pain in my chest which has troubled me for over eight years. Having been under treatment by doctors of Liverpool, Glasgow, Calcutta and San Francisco, none of them did me any good until I came under your treatment, which I am sure has permanently cured me, for which, gentlemen, I beg to remain,

Yours gratefully,
WILLIAM LITTLE.

ASTHMA AND OPIUM HABIT CURED.

MR. EDITOR—Dear Sir: I have been troubled with asthma for the past thirteen months, so bad as not to be able to do a day's work, and have suffered "torments of the damned." The paroxysms were so severe that my life was many thought to be despaired of. I had tried everything, and a great many physicians. In order to get relief I had to resort to morphine, until I had contracted the habit. I put myself under their electro-magnetic treatment. Now, after several treatments, I am entirely cured of my asthma and the morphine habit, and I have no craving for the drug. I can be referred to at the McKenzie House, foot of Marion street, Seattle, W. T.

H. A. JOHNSON.

CURE OF CATARRH AND VARICOSE VEINS.

TO THE PUBLIC: For ten years I have been troubled with a very disagreeable catarrh and bronchitis. I finally got so bad that I had to give up my business of ranching and riding for my stock. The catarrh extended to my lungs and stomach. My physicians gave me up as incurable. Last October I came to Drs. Darrin, and now, after three months' treatment, I consider myself so far restored as to be able to do all my own work. Before treatment I had to give up horseback riding, and could not attend to my stock at all; now I can remain in the saddle all day without fatigue. My wife had also been troubled with dropsy, milk leg and varicose veins, so she could only walk with the greatest inconvenience, and it was painful to the touch, and finally broke out in a running sore. Drs. Darrin sent her medicines, and to our glad joy, she is entirely cured.

Refer to me at Sprague, W. T.

FREDERICK MOHS.

The above gentleman, Mr. Mohs, owns a farm of 2720 acres and hundreds of cattle and horses, and these statements coming from a man of undoubted integrity, and whose reputation for veracity is above suspicion; must be admitted as positively true.

SCIATIC RHEUMATISM CURED.

MR. EDITOR—Dear Sir: For nearly a year I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism, and was so bad as to be unable to sit upon a chair or to get around, and suffered tortures indescribable. I came to the Drs. Darrin, Seattle, W. T., and went under their electro-magnetic treatment and home treatment. I now consider myself entirely cured. Can be referred to at Port Blakely, W. T.

S. F. HOSKINSON.

DEAFNESS AND DISCHARGING EARS CURED.

TO THE PUBLIC: I have been troubled with deafness and a discharge of one ear for over twenty years, and have tried everything. I placed myself under the Drs. Darrin's electro-magnetic treatment and I am now cured of my long standing trouble. I cheerfully recommend the doctors to afflicted humanity. Can be referred to at Stuck Junction, W. T.

JOHN WOLELIN.

OVERFLOWING TEARS CHECKED.

TO THE PUBLIC: For a number of years I have been troubled with overflowing of tears down my cheeks, and have been operated on a number of times by a physician without success. Called on the Drs. Darrin at the International Hotel, Cherry street, and they operated upon my eye, and I now feel great relief for the first time in fourteen years. I can be referred to at 1351 Railroad street, Tacoma, W. T.

MRS. A. J. QUENTAL.

A CERTIFIED CURE.

This is to certify that I have been troubled with weak eyes for over a year past, and with a constant pain over the eye and ball, and was almost blind at times. I went to Drs. Darrin and put myself under their electro-magnetic treatment, with the happiest results, as I consider myself cured. I can be gladly referred to at White River, W. T.

JOHN MULLEN.

OFFICE HOURS AND PLACE OF BUSINESS.

The Drs. Darrin are located at the International Hotel, Cherry street, Seattle, W. T. Consultation free.

The total eclipse of the moon does not occur on Tuesday night, as stated in last evening issue, but to-morrow. The moon enters the shadow at 7:40 Sunday evening. The total eclipse begins at 8:39; middle of the eclipse at 9:31; total shadow 10:22. Moon leaves shadow at 11:21. It is to be hoped the night will be clear.

Fleeced by Sharpers.

Two sharpers fleeced a young New York capitalist named Winters at Port Townsend the other day. The two gamblers, who are known as Billy Pratt and Frank Jones, roped him into a game of poker and relieved him of $9,900. Winters, who was en route to Alaska, had been imbibing too freely. Both sharps assumed high sounding names, Pratt rejoicing in the cognom of General Clark.

Temperance Picnic.

A large number of members of the I. O. G. T. picniced at Sailor Bay last evening. They indulged in a fine spread provided by the ladies and passed a few pleasant hours on the grassy shores of the bay. At 11 o'clock the party returned to the city singing temperance glees. The outing was thoroughly enjoyed and another is spoken of to take place in a few weeks.

Hotel Changed Hands.

Messrs. G. Merritt and Sober Tait have assigned their lease of the Central Hotel premises, Commercial street, Nanaimo, and disposed of the stock and fittings therein to Messrs. Osterhout and Kennedy, formerly of the Brunswick Hotel of this city, who assume possession on Thursday. It is their intention to carry on the place in first-class style and anyone who has patronized the Brunswick will agree that they know how to do it.

Rapid Rise of Sugar.

Sugar rose with unprecedented rapidity last week, prices being advanced almost daily. Various reasons are assigned for the advance. One is the rise of beet sugar in Europe, which affects the American markets. Another is the unusual demand, due to the increased population and extended canning operations. The third is that buyers who have hitherto held off in apprehension of the Mills bill have now entered the market and thus largely increased the inquiry. Finally, it is said that a pool has been formed in New York to buy up Cuban raw sugar, and that the operations of this pool have caused the advance.

The Churches.

Reformed Episcopal Church services on Sunday, at the usual hours, conducted by the Right Rev. Bishop Cridge and Rev. Dr. Reid. Sunday school in the afternoon, at 2:45 o'clock.

Baptist Church, Herald street, Rev. M. L. Rugg, pastor. Preaching on Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Subject of evening sermon—"The Proper Observance of the Sabbath."

Rev. G. Graedel, from Seattle, will preach in the German language in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian Church on Pandora street. Germans are cordially invited to be present.

Gorge Road Church—Services at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Rev. J. E. Starr will preach in the morning, and Rev. J. W. Wadman in the evening. Subject for night—"The Other Half."

Services in the Pandora street Methodist Church will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Wadman, and in the evening by Rev. J. E. Starr, who will continue the course of sermons on the "Sins of the City." Subject, "Have we a right to enact Sunday laws?" All are cordially invited.

Slow Mail Service.

The Sound papers are at last pitching into the dilatory mail system which they have over there. The trouble, it is said, is all caused by the Seattle office, where there is a distributing point and not half enough clerks to do the work. Seattle business men have been compelled, in order to protect their own interests, to hire one additional clerk by subscription, to assist the overworked employees. There are complaints in the Seattle papers every few days and the service is pronounced so wretchedly inadequate that one paper says they are trying to serve a city of 20,000 inhabitants with a force that would be inadequate for half that number. Seattle being a distributing point, all mails coming north from beyond there are dumped off to be assorted. With their present clerical force it is an utter impossibility to assort and distribute this mail properly and have it promptly forwarded.

Brick Manufacturers' Opinions.

The general verdict of the brick makers in the city is that building is much more active this year than usual. The number of brick blocks that are under way and calculated on are far ahead of last year, and the number of dwellings going up—some of them of fine proportions—is wonderful. One of our leading brick manufacturers said to-day that the city was doing better than it had done since the new order of things had begun in the province. Another says there are more brick buildings going up than in any city north of Portland. All this is very encouraging. With increasing travel, increasing business and plenty of work to do in the way of improving the city, and the prospect of retaining the baseball championship our people should be tolerably happy and contented for some time to come.

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

To the Ladies—Society Difficulties—Absence of the Bowld Soger Boys.

So ladies your "bowld soger boys" and your gallant "Jack tars," to wit: they have gone to fight for their country and you dear. The "goold" lace and your darling officers, spurs and all, have gone to be eaten up by the savage mosquitoes and black flies. You had the entire sympathy of The Major in your unbounded grief last Monday as you waved your last farewell. If he had an onion in his pocket he would have mingled his tears with yours. How gaily they shouted and sang,

"'Twas thus I lived and gained respect,
Free from debt and dangers
Till Major O'Reilly enlisted me
To join the Connaught Rangers.
They placed around my neck a big black stock
And treated me very kindly.
Still I thought my heart would break
For the girl I left behind me."

The Major pities your poor nerves. No more for many a long day will the glitter of the "goold" and the jingle of burnished spurs, sooth and comfort you. You are quite forlorn, like "Rachael weeping for her children, and will not be comforted."

The void created by the absence of your brave defenders, both on land and sea, in your little social circles, can't be killed. What straits you will be put to! The Major fancies, as an illustration of your present difficulties, be you queen of the house away up the aristocratic end of Fort street, when you appeal in your distress to your bear-of-a-husband, in those pleading accents of your charming sex, "Now, my dear (he's dear now) what in the world am I to do about that dance on Monday? I had booked three of the 'Caroline' men and two from the Battery, including the 'Doctor,' of course, and that would have made my party just a delightful success; and you know they had only three officers altogether at the dance in James Bay last week." Your bear, softened by your endearing tones, replies, "Oh! never mind, what does it matter, you can easily get six or seven bank clerks; they are as good as five officers any day." "Well, my dear," you reply, "if it comes to that as a last resource, how am I to get them?" "Oh!" answers your bear, "nothing easier, send an order to the Manager of the bank say a 'sight draft,' for half a dozen of his best looking clerks, to be well assorted, say two at five feet six, two at five feet nine, and two others any size—that of The Town Major, if you like—complexion and mustaches to be variegated, the fashionable bay color prevailing, if possible." "Why, my dear, you reply, "that would be too many bank clerks, and, besides, do you think the Manager would send them?" "Of course he would," replies the bear, "and if he does not promise to fill the bill, why, if the worst comes to the worst, as a last resource you can issue a 'writ of attachment' for a few of the young lawyers from Langley street; there's many of them briefless and would be only too glad to come. You know Captain Rose always accommodated you with the loan of a few Lieutenants and Middies, with a 'Joey' thrown in, so as there would be no ill-feeling, for your lawn tennis parties last year. You had best try my plan and send to the Bank and Langley street. Your 'writ of attachment' would get you as many bachelor barristers as you want, else send for The Town Major and he will fill the bill for you in time. "Well, I suppose," you say, "I must make the best of my difficulty, and if all else fail I'll send for that dear Town Major, he's so kind to us poor creatures. It will be all summer like this; perhaps its all for the best. Old aunt Jane, poor dear, used to say that she took no stock in the naval men. She said there was not a husband in a hundred of them; but that's not true, for I know three Victoria girls that were taken off and a body never knows what may happen. Oh! dear, this a queer and a difficult world to get on in, especially for us poor mothers."

What a dull week for you, my fair young friends. Especially you of Fort street, James Bay and thereabouts. You have The Major's sympathy in your melancholy loneliness. He always weeps with those that weep, and sigh with those that sigh. The Victoria young gentlemen of your ball rooms and your lawn tennis parties are elated and small blame to them. The past week to them has been a week of bliss and a joy forever. To you, fair readers, young and middle aged, need not be explained that when the gallant war ship left our port many of you had a fit of the "blues"—not the "Oxford Blues;" while you, afflicted with intermittent "scarlet fever," have not yet rallied from the attack. While the "red jackets" are away you refuse to be comforted. They are a heartless lot, "Joe the Marine and all," as the old song says:

And when we get the route!
How they pout and they shout!
While to the right about
Goes the bowld soger boy.

'Tis then that ladies fair,
In despair,
Tear their hair,
"Och! the devil a one I care,"
Says the bowld soger boy.

That's the way with the whole of them. See how those common civilian fellows of Victoria shine now, taking undue advantage of your sore distress. But take The Major's advice and pay them back with interest for their presumption. He heard one of them bank clerk fellows say in triumph, the other day, that "they were now at a premium, and not at a discount." What vulgarity applying the slang of the shop towards you, while the coming men of Langley street say "there's no bar to them now." But those lawyers always do take an advantage of distress and will lose no opportunity of issuing "a writ of attachment." So be on your guard; whether they plead in open court or chambers, avoid them. Even them fellows at the P. O. have the audacity of their order, and glibly talk of leading some colonial damsels to the "Register" office. Be sure you send them and their check to the dead letter office. Hudson Bay interests are looking up; shares have been quoted one-eighth higher since the outbreak of the war. There is quite a flutter away over in the "government compound" James Bay. Sub editors are looking for a subject for a "leading article" for life, and insurance chaps are seriously talking that their "policy" is now to take a double life. The curates—but no! they are all married, so the church is quiescent at present although it looks more hopefully for you.

We had no band in the park this afternoon. How dull the place looked, and the ladies vacantly staring at some jackdaws dressed up in red stockings and a parti-striped waistcoat, carrying what looked like an over grown fiddle case, (it was a cricket bat) &c. No go, my dear fellow, your manly form shown off to such advantage beneath the elastic threads of your cricketing flannels does not go down. It might have done wonders where you come from towards the rising sun, but it is no earthly use here on the Pacific coast. It wouldn't even charm a klootchman.

Ladies, go to church to-morrow and seek that consolation in the secluded part of your pews afforded by secret meditation. Pray earnestly for your absent one way up the Skeena. You, my fair young friends of the church, not 100 miles from Pandora street, who delight the worshippers with your "tuneful voices" when your "songs of praises raise," recollect that your little flirtations, be it with whom it may, during choir practice, should not be acted before the congregation; it is not intended. A little more reverence and decorum, especially when your good pastor is appealing to the Throne on High, would add much to your charming appearance. Don't smile, either, at those fellows in the body of the church. The position which you occupy is very trying, no doubt; still, attention to the hint of your well-wisher will be a decided improvement. Recollect what the immortal Burns said:

Would God that giftie gie' us,
To see oursel's as others see us.
It would fra' many an error free us, &c.

THE TOWN MAJOR.

BASEBALL MATCH.

The Amities Defeat the New Westminster Team.

The game between the city nine and New Westminster's team began on Beacon Hill at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Lewis, of the New Westminster nine, was first man to wield the birch and was disposed of by the battery; White followed and was put out before reaching first base; Mott went out on three strikes.

Amities—George Gowen sent a three-bagger to the left field; Burnes made first on a base hit; Gowen scored; Duck made a safe base hit and Burnes scored on a wild throw by Working; Gus Gowen was thrown out on first base; Duck scored; Borthwick was struck out; N. Gowen was disposed of by the battery. Runs, 3.

Second Innings, Westminster—Working made a safe base hit and reached second on an error by Borthwick; Winters went out on strikes; Wilson was caught on the fly by Gus Gowen; Cunningham was disposed of by the battery, leaving Working on third base.

Amities—Hannon out on strikes; Schultz bunted a ball to Spencer and was put out on first base; Baker reached first through an error by Spencer; Geo. Gowen again made a three-bagger; Baker scored; Burnes reached first on a ball to center field; Geo. Gowen scored; Duck sent a fly to Lewis. Runs, 3.

Third Innings—Westminster—Baker reached first base on called balls; Geo. Gowen caught Lewis; White was thrown out by Gus Gowen to Schultz; Mott was struck out; Baker scored. Runs 1.

Amities—Gus Gowen went to first base on balls; Borthwick was disposed of by Working; N. Gowen did not reach first; Gus Gowen was disposed of at the home plate.

Fourth Innings—Working sent a pretty ball to centre field and reached second base; Winters out on strikes; by good playing on the part of Borthwick, Wilson failed to make first; Cunningham was struck out by the battery; Working remained on third.

Amities—Hannon reached first on an error by Working; Schultz out on strikes; Baker made first on errors; Hannon and Baker scored on a fly to centre field by George Gowen; Burnes reached first on errors; George Gowen scored; Duck sent a two bagger to right field; Burnes reached home and Gus Gowen went out on a ball to first base; Duck scored; the pitcher from New Westminster then appeared to play very carelessly; Borthwick scored; N. Gowen was caught out by Lewis—Runs 6.

After the fourth innings the Amities appeared to become somewhat careless and did not play their usual game. It was plainly seen that the New Westminster nine had no chance of winning the game. Burnes and Duck made some fine catches in the field and the batting record of Geo. Gowen was very good. Hannon made the only four bagger amidst cheers from the assemblage. Baker and Borthwick worked well together and after four innings the new battery, Gus and Geo. Gowen made some fine plays. Lewis, of Westminster, played well. Mr. Edwards umpired in a very impartial manner. The following is the score which is the largest of the season:

Rather Unfortunate.

The Nanaimo Gas Company has again met, with a disappointing delay in furnishing gas to consumers. A serious defect was found in the tank and the directors taking advantage of the long days decided to repair it. They did so, and on re-filling it, the tank again bursted. This time the company secured the services of Mr. J. Kingsman, of this city. Under his direction a new bottom of cement and concrete was placed in the tank. A few days ago the water was turned into the tank and the fires started in the retorts. The tank was nearly filled on Wednesday night and they were about to lower the gas-holder, when they found that the tank was again leaking. The Directors are now considering the best means of placing the tank in a substantial and reliable condition.

The Boscowitz need not be expected from the north before next Thursday.

It is the only Minstrel Show with new features, new specialties and new novelties. It is the only Minstrel Show that does not employ broken down performers, who have been dropped by all first-class organizations.
